END REDS, PARIS CRY.

Paris, Feb. 24.—Events in Paris, less than the attempted murder of Clemenceau, have rekindled public attention here to the Bolshevik danger.

There is a widespread feeling in Paris that the Bolsheviks should be driven out of the country.

Fiji Uprising is Quelled; Many to be Deported

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 24.—A native uprising in the Fiji Islands was quelled recently, just as several mountain tribes were preparing to invade the white men's settlements, according to Eyre Hutson, formerly acting Governor of Fiji, who is here on his way to British Honduras to assume that State's Governorship.

Deportation of several of the ringleaders abruptly ended the uprising, Hutson said. The natives, almost 10,000 strong, were heavily armed and making final preparations for an attack when the movement was discovered.

The disaffection is unaccounted for unless it was due to the organization of a new religion among the native Fijians, which they style "The Number Eight," said Hutson. The motto of the new creed is "Fiji for the Fijians," and its devotees observe Friday as their Sabbath.

The movement against the white settlers originated with the most remote mountain tribes who still are devoted strongly to their ancient heathen religion and its rites. Efforts of missionaries to disengage them from the idol worship and other pagan practices have been unsuccessful.

While there is little likelihood of another uprising, according to Hutson, British government officials are observing the natives with some concern.

Thousands of natives and Europeans have died from influenza in the Fiji group during recent months, but the epidemic was under control when Hutson left, he said.

PRESIDENT HOME, FIGHTER FOR LEAGUE OF NATIONS

Return from Europe Marked by Boston Address in Which He Hurls Challenge at Opponents of Plans.

BOSTON, Feb. 24.—Throwing down the glove of defiance at all Senators and others who oppose the League of Nations and challenging them to combat with him, President Wilson, today, signified the first day of his return to America in a way that gave the deepest comfort to those friends of his who wanted him to make a fighting speech, not to deliver a prose poem. The camp that was hoping for a battle speech got its wish.

BOSTON, Feb. 24.—The President got into Boston at 11:14 o'clock and was driven through 200,000 of his fellow-citizens to the Copley Place, where he took luncheon and went from there to Mechanics Hall immediately. There, 7000 people, all that could be crowded into the hall, testified their satisfaction at every point he made, especially where he challenged the Senatorial and other opponents of his policy to the fight of their lives. Outside, heaven knows how many thousands waited patiently for him to conclude his speech, so they could hear and cheer him when he came out. He went at 4:30 o'clock to Washington, where he will transact such public business as is necessary and depart as soon as he can for France to take up his international work again.

The great event of the day, of course, was his speech—the only speech, so far as is known, which he will deliver during the short period of his stay in America. It divided itself into two parts, the first being from the viewpoint of those who want shoulder-hitting tactics, painfully general "and idealistic." The second was all for war. It was the second part that called forth the most cheers. It leaped, in the very fashion of the famous "Fourteen Points," against "some narrow-minded minds that have no sweep beyond the day's horizon." It welcomed a fight with them.

"I have fighting blood in me," declared the President, and the crowd applauded as it had not applauded any of the idealists that had gone before. Some did when, speaking of the opposition, he said that "his challenge on this question will be an indulgence."

He roused the crowd again by demanding to know if they were prepared to break the hopes of the new nations—Poland, Czechoslovakia, Armenia and the rest—by slipping into the verdict of America in this matter than I have of the blood that is in me."

Then he subtly questioned whether they were representing the people with him in this fight by saying: "I have come back to say to you that I am not a soldier, but a man of peace and honesty to speak your thoughts." The applause leaped into thunder because he said that he was not a soldier, but a man of peace and honesty to speak your thoughts.

GOOD BOXING
CARD AT VERNON.

AL GRUNAN WILL HAVE HIS TURN MATCH WITH HARRIS,
OTHER BOYS.

Al Grunau is going to try to prove that a boxer can come back and beat the fellow who has handed him a trimming. A month ago Grunau received a real bang at the hands of Earl Baird and tonight he tackles the aviator a second time in the hope that he will turn the tables. Both boys have worked hard for the bout and the match should be fast all the way.

There are three bouts on the card that have semi-windup class. Old Jordan and Jack Downey, middleweights, draw that position on the bill, but they are likely to see knockers with Young Goido and Tommy Nelson and Chet Abernathy
and Billy Wilson.

Jordan is a hard-hitter and has been out of luck for some time because there were no 145-pounders
who could give him an argument, but Downey is expected to fill in well. It will be a skill and strength when Goido meets Nelson. The latter is the heaviest boy at his weight that has been at Vernon, while Goido is the opposite. Wilson and Abernathy are sluggers and the boys might draw into a hammer and tongs affair.
Kid Layman and Jimmy Berry seem on the bill and Tom Bancroft and Sidney White will be the curtain raiser.
Jack Doyle promises to have a new referee on the job.

National Guardsmen on Rhine
Coming Home Soon.

Three Other Divisions in Germany Also Assigned.

Ten Thousand Doughboys
Reach American Lines.

(BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.)

COLENZ, Feb. 24.—The approximate dates of the departure for home of two National Guard ar-two National Army divisions, comprising half the American army of occupation, were announced today
at Thir Army headquarters.

The Thirty-second Division and the Forty-second, or "Rainbow" Division, will leave about April 15, and the Eighty-ninth and Ninetieth divisions of the National Army during June.

According to the plan, the places of the departing divisions will be taken by three regular army divisions. The force of occupation will then consist of the First, Second, Third, Fourth, Fifth, Sixth and Seventh divisions of regulars.

Details for the departure of the men by way of the Rhine and Holland are being worked out.

The Thirty-second Division is made up of men from Michigan and Wisconsin. The Forty-second Division comprises National Guardsmen from all sections in the Union. The Eighty-ninth Division was recruited in Kansas, Missouri, South Dakota, Nebraska, Colorado, New Mexico and Arizona, and the Ninetieth Division
in Texas and Oklahoma.

DOUGHBOYS FOR DOUGHBOYS.
(ATLANTIC CABLE—EXCLUSIVE REWARK.)

COLENZ, Feb. 24.—After delay
such as hinder all the big movements, the American doughnut has at last reached the Rhine in numbers sufficient to make some slight impression on the "soldiers' appetites. Ten thousand of them started today from a special bakery established by the Knights of Columbus, and although disappeared almost as soon as they were sighted, some of the doughboys, better at maneuvers than their fellows, seemed almost satisfied.

The same number will be turned out daily and distributed in barrels on motor trucks to each organization in this area.

Hot chocolate and coffee were served, the combination forming a mid-afternoon treat.

And some are going a long distance to reach the consumer. For example, a courier bound for Berlin
this afternoon took with him a big box of fried cakes for the American delegations in the German capital.
He also carried cigarettes, cigars
and chocolate, which the group needs.

Scientific mastication of the doughnut produced here proves that while the bakers are Germans, it is the genuine American article. There was some difficulty in getting sufficient supplies, but arrangements were made with the quartermaster so that the Knights now are able to get all the white flour, sugar and other ingredients required. A hard substitute is used, but the general verdict is that it does the work. Under the guidance of Americans, the German cooks have learned to take the cakes from the kettle at the right time, and just when they start to cool to dip them in sugar.

MOTORMAN GIVES
OUT THE DETAILS

Didn't Enjoy Square Meal
in Twenty Years.

Says He Always Suffered
Afterwards.

Gain Ten Pounds on Tan-
lac—Feels Fine.

"A medicine that will do what Tanlac did for me ought to be in every home in the land," said J. J.
Kennedy, a well-known motorman
on the Los Angeles Street Railway, living at 1018 East Eighteenth street,
Los Angeles, recently.

"I had been troubled with my stomach for twenty years," he continued, "and was never able to eat a square meal during that time but what gas would form and keep me in misery for hours. I was constipated all the time and felt tired, run-down and worn out. I was very nervous and the least thing out of the ordinary would upset me. My sleep was restless, I had no energy and felt so weak and bad that I had to use extra effort to operate my car. I had been under treatment from time to time but gradually got worse instead of better.

"Soon after Tanlac was put on sale
here, last summer, and so many people began talking about how it was helping them, I began taking it myself, and in a short time I commenced to feel better. My first bottle helped me so much that I got another, then another and kept on improving. So, when I had finished my fourth bottle all my bad feelings were gone and then I got on the scale and found I had actually gained ten pounds. And although that was six months ago, I have held my increase in weight and feel fine to this day. So I can testify to both the immediate and lasting results of Tanlac. I can now enjoy my three square meals a day, sleep like a log and feel in the pink of health all the time.

Tanlac is sold in Los Angeles,
Pasadena and San Diego by the Owl Drug Company under the personal direction of a special Tanlac representative.—(Advertisement.)

EARLY PEACE TREATY
SEEMS NOW ASSURED.

CONCLUSION OF FINAL TERMS
MAY BE MADE BEFORE MAY,
SAYS PICHON.

(BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.)

PARIS, Feb. 24.—The atmosphere around the Peace Conference has changed remarkably in the last few days. The deliberation and caution which marked the proceedings of important commissions have given away and even the most conservative delegates are being carried forward at a great pace. Talk of early peace has become general.

President Wilson, before he left France, urged the American commissioners to spare no exertion to bring the conference to a conclusion, at least respecting a peace treaty, but the actual directing force toward that end has been Premier Clemenceau, who, even while reclining in his study chair, suffering from the wound given him by a would-be assassin, has summoned the premiers of four other great powers to his side to impress upon them the need of hastening the great work in their hands.

France originally doubted the wisdom of concluding peace before conditions crystallized in Germany and effective guarantees against further danger to the quarter had been provided and opportunity had been assured that devastated France and Belgium industries would retrieve the ground Germany had gained on them. Now France agrees with America and Great Britain in demanding a termination of the existence of the present technical state of war so that even Germany may resume the normal ways of peace.

This view was reflected yesterday
by Stephen Pichon, French Foreign Minister, in his regular Sunday talk with foreign newspaper correspondents. He said, discussing the probable date the treaty of peace will be signed, that work would be hastened as soon as the necessary foundation had been laid. M. Pichon referred to the fact that President Wilson thought when he left that the end could be reached by the middle of May, but added that it was now regrettable that it might be sooner and that he saw no reason to doubt it. Asked if the Peace Conference could then disperse, he replied that the general principles which must govern the treaty of peace would be included in the treaty itself, while the application must be determined and made workable afterwards. This was understood as indicating that some portion, at least of the conference machinery must remain in action
after the signature of the treaty.

America also believes the treaty which will be signed first must be followed by another final treaty which will prescribe exactly the conditions to be met by the enemy powers. Several months may elapse before this can be made ready.

M. Pichon said Germany would be dealt with first, but added there were important peace questions for settlement in connection with Austria, Bulgaria and Turkey. Military experts, he said, have been instructed to examine them and have them in readiness for speedy adjustment.

The Minister made no reference to Italy in this connection, but it is known that the Italian commissioners have agreed that Austria as well as German questions should be included in the first treaty, so that vexatious boundary questions might be put out of the way. M. Pichon said it is difficult to determine the liability of provinces formerly attached to the Austro-Hungarian empire for a proportion of the indemnities to be collected by the Entente. There has been no discussion of it in the council, he said, although financial experts have been considering it.

Owing to the division of Austria-Hungary into so many states, it has not been practicable as yet to ascertain their attitude. Some of them, like Bohemia, have expressed readiness to assume their share. Others, like the Czech-Slovaks, have held the liability to be limited to the pre-war debt of the empire. It seems very natural, however, M.
Pichon thought, to claim something from them although not on the same scale from all parts of the empire.

The commissioners who are considering reparations, the Minister said, are near an agreement. The first question to be determined is what Germany owes and then what she can pay. When these are determined a plan can be devised by the Entente for dividing for reparation obtained among the Entente Powers.

In conclusion, M. Pichon said Premier Clemenceau was about to undertake consideration of the Russian question when he was shot. He said the subject then awaits his return to his official duties.

While the idea has seemed to prevail in some quarters during the past few days that the proposed conference with the Russian faction leaders of Prinkipo Island has been abandoned definitely, it is understood today nothing has been abandoned except the first invitation issued by the Council.

Another invitation, it is said, will be issued after assurances are obtained that it will be accepted.

ARGUMENTS BEGIN IN DUNN SEDITION CASE.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)

HELENA, Feb. 24.—W. F. Dunn, charged with sedition, took the stand in his own defense today. His testimony closed the defense. Arguments began late today and continued tonight. The charge is based on an editorial alleged to be sedi-tiously critical of the State Council of Defense.

Court had adjourned Friday to allow Judge H. Lee Word to consider the legal technicality as to whether the defense could show Dunn's intent of mind when he wrote the article in question. Judge Word decided today that the "intent" did not enter into the case, since the sedition act

refers to acts "calculated" to incite sedition.

Dunn's evidence brought out little. He said he is not editor of the Butte Bulletin, in which the article appeared, but editorial writer, on salary. He admitted, however, that he sends his own matter to the printers.

BEGIN CAMPAIGN FOR

LEAGUE OF CHURCHES

MINISTERS FROM ALL PARTS OF SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA IN CONFERENCE HERE.

Ministers and prominent laymen from all parts of Southern California took part in conferences here yesterday to start the new campaign of the church-led movement to organize a league of American churches. More than 600 delegates of all Protestant denominations attended yesterday's meetings. The delegates expressed their opinion that the church is the only spiritual union of all evangelical denominations.

The first meeting yesterday was held in the Y.M.C.A. auditorium under the auspices of the Ministerial Union. Dr. Herbert Booth Smith presided. There was a luncheon at the Broadway Department Store at 12:30 o'clock, presided over by Dr. C. C. Cleveland, pastor of the Church of the Epiphany. In the afternoon there were conferences at the First Methodist and other churches, and the day closed with a banquet at the Emanuel Presbyterian Church given by the Church Federation.

The principal speakers at the luncheon and banquet were Dr. J. Campbell White and Fred B. Smith, national leaders of the interchurch movement. Dr. Solomon and Dr. Herbert Booth Smith.

"The time has surely come for the union of churches," said Dr. White. "It must be a spiritual union. The churches are big enough to unite to work out the plans and the methods of a common movement. If some day actual organic union of the churches naturally follows, well and good, but we must first of all be united on our common spiritual aspirations."

The delegates agreed to begin at once to work out the plan of the league on a basis for the participation of this part of the country in the interchurch movement. The first object of church needs is to be devised and a national campaign made and the money distributed to the churches in accordance with their budget requirements, as was done in the case of the recent United War Work drive.

MAN SHOT BY WIFE EXPECTED TO LIVE.

GILBERT O. ORCHARD'S PHYSICIAN SAYS ONLY POSSIBLE INFECTION IS FEARED.

Gilbert O. Orchard, a salty oil operator, who was shot in the head early on Sunday morning by his wife in a quarrel in the bedroom of their home at 1742 Victoria drive, will recover, according to his physician, Dr. Rae Smith. Dr. Smith stated last night that the only thing to be feared is an infection which might develop in the wound. Mrs. Orchard, who was released from the City Jail on Sunday night at the instance of her husband's bed-side nurse, is in the California Hospital most of the time since her release.

Smith declared that according to Mrs. Orchard was the outcome of a quarrel over her son, Mr. Orchard's stepson, came only after a bitter quarrel between the two upon their return from a beach excursion. Mrs. Orchard stated to the police that she had been so infuriated by herself and her son from an attack by Mr. Orchard. Mrs. Orchard is charged with assault with intent to kill.

It was learned last night from a telegram received by Chief of Police William J. Dwyer, that the condition of Mr. Orchard, that he has a daughter in Thermopole, Michigan, is the name of Mrs. Vivian Dwyer.

GIRLS PREFER "GOBS," SAYS MASQUERADE.

OREGON PROFESSOR EXPLAINS REASON FOR WEARING SAILOR'S SUIT.

"A sailor stands better chance with the girls than a soldier," said Prof. John Ferdinanda Harthan de Well yesterday, when asked why he impersonated a sailor when he had been enticed to a room by a woman who was entitled to wear a army uniform.

Prof. De Well, who claims to be a millionaire, declared that he had been invited to a hotel early Sunday evening by a woman who was impersonating a military officer. He had served in the Student Army Training Corps at Palo Alto, he said, and had received in honor a five-day leave from the service. Since then he has been doing research in chemistry at his home in Eugene, he said.

When questioned at the war squad office by S. J. Richmond of the Naval Intelligence Bureau, he said, he had admitted his conduct with impunity and donned the sailor suit to attract girls. For some reason he had been told that he had to be blue than the khaki.

Mr. Richmond yesterday filed a complaint with the United States marshal, accusing Prof. De Well of impersonating an enlisted soldier, and he will be given a hearing before the military court before Commissioner Long. It is probable that his alleged attempt to impersonate a military officer, in 1917 will be investigated at the same time. He asserted he was innocent of this charge.

AN ANTI-COMMERCIAL SCHEDULES TO BE ADJUSTED AT WASHINGTON.

The pre-war Coast cities to store grain by transcontinental night rates to the West has been lifted off, according to L. D. Hale, chairman of the Commerce Committee of the Chamber of Commerce, because of advice from the East that the matter is to be favorably considered in Washington.

The San Francisco Chamber of Commerce delegates will go to Washington to meet with the California delegates committee, which came to the city from San Francisco.

ARMY'S TOTAL DEATHS DURING WAR ARE 107,444

CASUALTIES OF EXPEDITIONARY FORCES ALONE AGGREGATE 72,951.

(BY A. P. MURPHY WIRE.)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—Deaths during the war in the American Expeditionary Forces and among troops in the United States from all causes, the War Department announced today, numbered 107,444.

In the expeditionary forces the total was 72,951. Of these 29,319 resulted from disease, 43,768 from injuries received in battle, and 3354 from all other causes.

Deaths from disease among the troops in the United States totaled 27,737 and from other causes 1708, giving a total for the troops in this country of 29,445.

The figures for the American Expeditionary Forces cover the period from April 1, 1917, to February 16, 1919; those for the troops in the United States from April 1, 1917, to February 16, 1919.

The figures show that the total deaths from disease exceeded the total battle casualties by more than 4000.

The Senate today passed the House bill amending the articles of war to authorize commanding officers in the field or territorial departments or divisions to mitigate or remit sentences imposed by court-martial. Under the law this can be done only by the President.

Nearly all the conscientious objectors recently released by the army at Fort Leavenworth have returned the money paid them on discharge, holding that the scruples which prevented them from fighting also forbade the acceptance of pay for non-combatant service which relieved a fighter for the front.

LOS ANGELES (Los Angeles)
 Entered as second class matter, December 4, 1881, at the Postoffice at Los Angeles, Cal., under the Act of March 3, 1879.

MEMBER OF THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.
 The Associated Press is a corporation organized for the purpose of publishing and distributing news and information to its members.

A THRILL IN IT.

There is a thrill in President Wilson's Boston speech which no true American can fail to feel, no matter how deep-rooted his prejudices may be. America is "the hope of the world." If America now fails to unite with her Allies in a pact for insuring permanent peace, the world will go back to the blackness of darkness and the desolation of despair. And it is "unthinkable" that America should betray the world's hope and prove false to her own ideals by casting aside the Constitution for a League of Nations or by dismissing the programme for establishing for all time the security of all the peoples of the earth.

COSMOPOLITAN.
 First thing we know Woodrow Wilson of Paris and the world will be spending his weekends in a place called America.

CHANGING THE CALENDAR.
 Propaganda is being spread by an association which has for its purpose the dividing up of the year into thirteen months of an even twenty-eight days, or four weeks each. People who are paid by the month might be expected to give three cheers for the idea, but when it is all figured out it will be hard to show any advantage to compensate for the change. The bank will not object to making your ninety-day note pay for three months, but that's about all. Besides, who wants to have one more rest day in the year?

BOOTLEGGING.
 There is said to be a lot of bootlegging in Arizona. The old song puts it "Everybody's Doing It"—meaning of course that everybody who wants to do it is doing it. We venture the assertion that there is bootlegging in Los Angeles too. It is the inevitable accompaniment of all forms of prohibition. People will have what they want. But we have no doubt that the public sentiment of Arizona is against it. We are informed and we believe that Arizona would never vote to go back to wetness; and the prohibitory law is enforced in that State with much rigour. "How dry I am!" should be Arizona's State song—not "Everybody's Doing It."

PLEASURES OF TIME.
 The books of the Laurel Park Chautauqua Association of Northampton, Mass., show that on July 20, 1889, it paid to a certain Prof. W. Wilson the sum of $15 for a lecture on representative government. The professor is still talking on the same subject, but he can command a heap eight more money for his appearances than he can for his lectures. The little audience who thirty years ago listened to the academic thoughts of a young collegian could never dream that he could grow into a force equal to making a League of Nations out of the bloody fabric of a world war. At about the same time the first President of an experimental German republic was learning how to make saddles! Oh, well, how time does fly; eh, darling?

BLESSED BOOK OF ROYALTY.
 There is one thing else the editor of the Almanac de Gotha would like a penicillin. This is the official roster of Europe's royalty and nobility, and as edition was well along toward press time when the blowout came. The wreckage is something frightful, and from the German section alone the biographies and pedigrees of 278 princelings will be missing. The gilt-edged catalogue of the ancient houses of Hohenzollern, Wittelsbach and Coburg is among the lost and the offspring of many another princely family are in the discard. The next almanac will show that Dame Europa has had a dicken of a house cleaning. It may need revision every week or two when it does come, and there are a lot of people who think that publication may as well be indefinitely suspended.

WHAT'S IN A NAME?
 Since the day of Elijah there has been no particular occasion for the use of the word "derby." But it now has a regularity in the news stories of the hour. The word came very naturally when aeroplanes began to carry passengers, and now that England has regular lines of flyers bearing from four to twenty transients over regular routes it flows easily to the tip of the tongue and is as surely established as the telephone or the phonograph. Although of Latin descent the word virtually makes itself and is as understandable as some of our choicest slang. The word "derby" is about the only one of native origin connected with great modern inventions. That might well be displaced, for it is descriptive of what it is not rather than what it is. The automobile began its career as the horseless carriage, but look what they did to it when they began to dig among the Latin roots.

SICK OF CONFISCATION.
 Los Angeles witnessed on Saturday a parade unique in the history of American cities. More than five thousand men and women marched with hands playing and banners flying in a demonstration planned to advise Congress that the American people are demanding the confiscation of the railroad property taken over by the government under the extraordinary authority granted to it as a war measure. The fighting has ceased; the emergency that occasioned the taking over of the railroads no longer exists; the demobilization of the men conscripted for war service is under way; but the men and women in that parade were urging that the conscripted property should be retained.

Few of those in the parade realized the true meaning of the demand which they were endorsing. They were mostly the dupes of unscrupulous agitators who led them by demagogic phrases to believe that their neighbors were despoiled of their wealth for the benefit of the politicians. For the government to retain property conscripted as for a war emergency is as indefensible as for it to demand that the conscripted men continue to serve the government during the rest of their natural lives for a wage of $30 a month.

President Wilson has assured the world that America demands only a peace of justice; yet confiscation in its elementary meaning is a denial of justice. Confiscation means forcible seizure. The only argument possible to advance in its favor is that of necessity, the argument that Germany used when bombarding cathedrals and violating the neutrality of Belgium. The word "necessity" becomes for demagogues a cloak that, like charity, covers a multitude of sins.

The threat for confiscation is the besetting sin of the present generation. From the beginning of history many politicians have been thieves, a class of drones living upon what others produce; and it is the politician houses who have fired the unthinking with a greed for the confiscation of the accumulated wealth of the world. Confiscation of wealth is a phrase that produces a pleasing effect on those who are not custodians of property; it affords to the grasshopper the opportunity to seize the accumulations of the ant under a process of law. The law, which was devised for the punishment of theft, is cleverly twisted about until it becomes an accomplice of political banditry. The dupes who marched in Saturday's parade had never stopped to consider to whom they would be turning over the wealth they propose to take away. They did not reflect that it would go to politicians to be wasted and that the common people would get not a penny of benefit. They did not consider that these railroads may nearly $100,000,000 a year in different kinds of tax in California; and that, if they are taken by the government, the $100,000,000 must be added to the enormous burden of taxation.

Whenever property is confiscated through taxation or seizure it ceases to be a public asset, but goes to the politicians and is used to control elections and place the spoils in a condition analogous to the economic servitude. There has never been economic servitude in this country; but it will be speedily established if the confiscation of property by political bandits is not checked. It is all the more surprising that this policy of confiscation should receive such an impetus in the United States at the very time when other countries—notably Russia and Mexico—have tried it and found that its effect is more deadly than that of pestence.

Russia has been experimenting with confiscation for more than two years. The wealth of the country has been grabbed by the politicians and the real owners are exiled or dead. This grab was made in the name of the working classes. The peasants and laborers imagined they were going to benefit through the confiscation of wealth. But the only ones to benefit have been the office-holders, the wealth of the country has disappeared and millions of the proletariat are starving. Dispatches from Russian sources related last week that a general strike had been called in the industrial centers to protest against the Bolshevik domination. The Bolshevik politicians were running the shops and paying the workers in paper currency issued by the government. But the workers found the paper without value; it was the promissory note of a bankrupt. Russia is sick, ill into death, of confiscation. It began with a parcel like the one witnessed here Saturday; the end is an equality of misery which typifies the greatest crime perpetrated by a government, not on the rich, but on the working classes.

It is high time that the working classes learned to distinguish between phrases and facts. Despite the clamors against wealth, it remains the measure of prosperity of a people. In the countries that have the highest and the living conditions of the masses are the best. Thrift is essential to the well-being of a people; confiscation is its negation. Mexico offers an example right at our doors. For two years the government has been operated under a constitution that, like that of the Bolsheviks, permits a confiscation of wealth through seizure and taxation. Since then there has been a famine of capital and capitalists of industry. The government took over mines, oil fields and railroads. But government operation proved a disastrous failure. The visible wealth of the country disappeared, consumed by the politicians or banished. Misery has followed, the greatest known in a hundred years. Mexican delegates were in Los Angeles while that parade in favor of confiscation was forming. At the very hour it was in progress these delegates were witnessing leading spirits of the Chamber of Commerce to discuss the aid of starving Mexico with the capital necessary to operate Mexican industries and develop Mexico's great natural resources. They promised whatever government legislation might be required to guarantee the new capital against the confiscation that consumed the old. Similar delegations are in New York, London and Paris. But the investors are wary; they are the hired children who dread again to approach the fire. Mexico, too, is sick of confiscation through seizure and taxation, sick unto death of it. Yet these headless thousands paraded through the streets of Los Angeles demanding that the United States government should do the thing which has brought the working classes of other countries to starvation.

We are willing to pay almost any price for peace—even to the public recrudescence of the shiny bean pot.

He Hasn't Really "Landed" Yet!

THE PLUG HAT.
 Judging from the pictures we are shown in the papers from day to day this big Peace Conference is also making the world safe for the four-quart beausard.

At any rate, no statesman is photographed in these times unless accompanied by his plug hat. He either has it deftly balanced on his dome or else is gracefully waving it at the cheering populace.

"Hand me that silk bonnet, James," the Premier will exclaim to his valet, and when he puts it on the eminent publicist is dressed for anything from a cribbage game to the trial of the Hohenzollerns. Our own President used to wear a Fedora, or even a Scotch cap, with a good deal of cavalier ease, and both became him right well, but it appears now that he and his stove-pipe helmet are inseparable companions. It is almost certain that he sleeps in his lid, for he is shown with it before breakfast and after bedtime. It takes a lot of practice to be able to snore comfortably and happily in a night cap built on the lines of a butter crock and lots of folks would think it not worth while to learn, but it is all in the day's work with a trained statesman, and the silk hat becomes as much of the man as the gold fillings to his back teeth.

When the peace delegates are getting together there is a row of plug hats as long as a bearse, and when Col. House turns up his coat-sleeves to show he has no cuffs there is a vague wonder for the moment whether he is going to mix an omelet or extract a couple of rabbits from his stove-pipe dome shield. But no, it is a scrap of paper—a memorandum of the Belgian claims against Germany—which he is depositing in his lid for safe keeping and present reference.

Lloyd George is a saved-off in size, but he has a fine mane, and when he puts on a plug deer that adds a full cubit to his stature he looks as imposing as Samson. Likewise Arthur Balfour looks something more than interesting when he is wearing his silk lid—which is one of the things he did not go into an art gallery and hang your plug hat on the pure white brow of a statue of Apollo!

Then you would realize that, after all, the stove-pipe headpiece is a matter of costume and environment. Statesmen may become so clumsy with them as to take them to bed with them, but a man with nothing on but a plug hat and a night shirt does look like a statesman, no matter what the Almighty and the voters of the people have otherwise done for him.

But the heavier bonnet has had a long and picturesque career. At one period the plug hat was the sign and token of the eminent journalist, the veterinary surgeon and the piano tuner. In another generation it was the brand on the forehead of those who worked other rather than work themselves. But almost always the plug hat and the Prince Albert coat was the court dress of the politician. As soon as a man had acquired a uniform of this character he was qualified to run for the Legislature.

So ran the world away. But for a number of seasons the stove-pipe has had a rather trying struggle for existence. The concertina brand has been the regalia for the nightly proving of the Ra-Ra boys and the movie actors, but the substantial belt-crowned beehive of the medicine man has not been seen on the streets in daylight hours. Even its second cousin, the derby, has passed from common usage and is but an intermittent spectacle.

But it is a long worm that has no turn. The pictures we are having from the Peace Conference show that not only the delegates, but the secretaries, the experts and the jame thousand eminent correspondents are all wearing shining plug hats—some a hip, some a straight up and down, but all reflective of the good old pot lid. Mayhap there is a reason. During the war the boys in the trenches accustomed themselves to wearing non-bustable alypsoes of cast iron, weighing about seven pounds each. Therefore in peace men should be able to gladly bear a half-length of stove-pipe that doesn't weigh much more than eight ounces.

We threaten to become a coffee and doughnut nation, by reason of the altitudinous prices. Ham and eggs are now beyond all but the vulgar rich.

HITS AND MISSES BY OTHER PAPERS.

The late Private John Allen made the claim that he was the only man without a title in the Confederate army. Judged by the number of colonels and majors lined up daily at Pennsylvania avenue bars in Washington, until the war's deadly phase intervened, he had ample basis for his assumption. Now we may have no end of titled relics of the war if a bill in Congress which makes brevet majors of members of draft exemption boards goes through. We already have a sizeable army of majors whose spurs, Uncle Joe Cannon says, were or are used only to keep their feet from sliding off their office desks. Why not pigeonhole the major bill till the boys get cold and send what they think about it?—[Buffalo Express.]

When the society reporter writes up a wedding she devotes practically all of the space at her disposal to the bride. The men are beginning to demand reform in society reporting. The men claim that the manner in which the condemned man passed his last night, what he ate for breakfast and his demeanor on the way to the scaffold are human-interest features which should not be overlooked.—[Topeka Capital.]

The anti-prohibition newspapers have been caricaturing prohibition as a sour, anemic, pacifistic-looking man in a long black coat and high hat, a composite ass, pacifist, tyrant and reform crank. Why do the most portly men as he is—the American farmer—an industrialist—business man, with courage, honor, efficiency, initiative and skill at his command? He is the force that drove liquor out of the country.—[Kansas City Times.]

Soma day some farmer with an acute knowledge of the ignorance of the wretched dwellers in cities will sit down at his mahogany rolltop and dictate a little book called "The Cow's Own Story." That important animal will tell how much the cost and what is the "overhead" for keeping her, how much the hired man gets for milking her and what the dairyman has to pay for herd renewal, tests, transportation and the like.—[New York Sun.]

Ever since we were old enough to take an academic interest in such things the heart-and-home editors have been urging the girls to let everything hang from the shoulders, but at times about the only things that really do are the Sam Browne belts.—[Ohio State Journal.]

That Eastern economist that contends that the next great world war will be a struggle between man and woman evidently never looked up the home statistics on married life.—[Lexington Herald.]

Senator Harding says that the statement that this country went to war for democracy "has been a lie from the beginning." But that is precisely what the anarchists and pacifists and pro-Germans have said when they dared. Some are in fall or upon sentense for saying it.—[St. Louis Post-Dispatch.]

Perhaps Russia is, after all, worth what it has cost the world in bloodshed, confusion, anarchy, murder, rape, rapine and tosy-turvydom generally, for it stands today as a sad obelisk for the new principles of hell upon earth.—[Minneapolis Journal.]

It is said that the ex-Kaiser sought to make another Napoleon. Consider the parallel: Napoleon began with nothing, commanded his own armies, wrought out an empire and—fell. Wilhelm Hohenzollern began with a fortune, fought by proxy, ruled his country and lost his throne. In their final defeat alone have they anything in common. Napoleon at least had the ability to create the empire he forfeited. Wilhelm merely squandered an inherited estate.—[Chicago News.]

There are various kinds of protection afforded by governments for the people. A new one has developed in the State of Maine. The law forbids anyone who did not himself catch it, to sell a pickerel. The fact is not allowed in Maine do not even the man who caught them must have done that "legally." It is known to people, who, for fear of starving, have eaten pickerel, that their bodies are made up of 90 per cent sharp bones and 10 per cent fish. When it comes to a choice between trying the family pickles and eating a pickerel, most people prefer the pickerel, but it is evident that the legislators do not mean to expose their constituents to the perils of the diet when it can be avoided. There is no law in Maine against selling pickles.—[Hartford Courant.]

RIPPLING RHYMES.

LOVING THE GERMANS.
 Inspired by palms and sermons and good books on the shelf, I try to love the Germans as I would love myself; but when I've loved the critters for minutes five or ten, I need a course of bitters to tone me up again. It's hard to love the people who sampled Belgium down, destroyed the church and steeple and burned the helpless town. It's hard to love the blighters who raise a sickly whine when whipped by allied fighters and shoot across the Rhine. And yet I keep on trying to love them more or less; the effort keeps me crying and sweating, I confess; and when I've loved the duffers a half an hour or so, no other being suffers the agonies I know. I'm weary and exhausted, as though by mortal ills, by doctors I'm accosted, who say I'm needing pills. I feel my doom's been spoken, I'm hobbling on a crutch. I'm weak and I feel my body's been loosed from its too much. A man may love the Russians nor find existence vain; but if he loves the Prussians he cannot stand the strain. And still, inspired by sermons which teach that hate's a fake, I'll try to love the Germans until my spare ribs break.—WALT MASON.

THE DAY'S RECKONING.

BY EUGENE BROWN.

Who Put the Will in Wilson?
 "Who put the 'will' in Wilson?" The eager youth exclaimed.
 "To cross the busy ocean
 And show how peace is framed."
 "Who put the 'would' in Woodrow?" (If anybody could.)
 For now he drops his 'may I not' And seems to say: "I would."
 "God put the will in Wilson."
 The teacher made reply.
 "He set the stars to shape his course And hung them in the sky."
 "God put the will in Wilson."
 To do as he has done.
 And for a brimming measure He added on His Son.

God put the 'would' in Woodrow— And then—oh, crown of fame! Decreed that all the world should ring With Woodrow Wilson's name.

The Bungalow Habit.
 Bungalow building, which was interrupted by the slump in real estate activity and badly crippled by the war, is being resumed hereabouts on a scale that revives pleasant memories. It is not so very long ago that a bungalow was being finished somewhere in Los Angeles for every quarter-hour all the year 'round. A solid mile of bungalows was built every month. For every minute of the clock day some bungalow was waiting at a City Hall window for a permit to put up a bungalow. Los Angeles was and still is the bungalow town of the world. There are over eighty thousand of these charming little dwellings, and the shakes and shingles used in their construction if laid end to end would reach from here to Venus by way of Mars. The first man who put up a bungalow in Los Angeles had hope; the second one had faith and the third had charity—for the feelings of his neighbors. He didn't want to flaunt his prosperity and so he built his house much like the others and yet did you ever see two bungalows exactly alike? There are over two thousand bungalows in the city built from the same set of plans and yet there is some little trick of difference in the finishing or decoration that will enable a man to pick out his own home on the darkest night that ever was.

Things like that never happen in the world of the rich and the famous. In the case of the bungalow, the first man who put up a bungalow in Los Angeles had hope; the second one had faith and the third had charity—for the feelings of his neighbors. He didn't want to flaunt his prosperity and so he built his house much like the others and yet did you ever see two bungalows exactly alike? There are over two thousand bungalows in the city built from the same set of plans and yet there is some little trick of difference in the finishing or decoration that will enable a man to pick out his own home on the darkest night that ever was.

PEN POINTS.

BY THE STAFF.

Greetings, Mr. President!

A glad nation congratulates you.

That was a master mariner's ship.

The big Four—Clemenceau, Lloyd George and Wilson.

A man who would like to live in Germany just now is easily suited.

So far even the Irish have not been able to settle the Irish question.

Have you noticed that a man with a thin throat of hair is usually a friend of the derby hat?

The California Legislature is about to reconvene and may the Lord have mercy on our souls!

Herb Hoover says the farmer should come before the packer, but where does the consumer trail in, Herbie, dear?

Why is it that so many of the folks from the East who come to California think they were cut out to run a restaurant?

If the meat packers insist on passing around the $3.50 steak a number of Congressmen are likely to be ravished.

The question whether women dress to please the men or to worry other women has never been definitely determined.

With the coming of prohibition it might be possible to utilize the empty barrels as material for the making of tooth picks. Imagine the savings!

Gen. Leonard Wood has been offered the job of an editor. He ought not to accept. There are already too many "soldiers" in the editorial chairs.

The White House has been renovated for the return of President Wilson and wife, but the regular cleaning will not occur until March 4, 1921.

There is money in the invention of a non-alcoholic drink with a kick in it. Who will be the first to make plans and specifications in the patent office?

With the return of our President to the old U.S.A. he will probably formulate fourteen points for the settlement of the labor unrest in this country.

Republicans of the House will vote this week on the Speaker's bill, which cannot be predicted.

Nick Longworth, spoken of as a possible candidate, is a strong man when he is interested, and he will be.

It becomes more apparent every day that William Jennings Bryan gave utterance to a solemn truth when he said that when Woodrow Wilson got through President there might be a Wilson party, but the old Democracy will be gone.

Ray T. Conner of New York has paid $10,000,000 for the steamship equipment of the British government in Canada. He will use the transportation of passengers, mail and express and finally heavy freight. None but an American would dare that plunge on a system. It is a good proposition. It is, because it puts life into the dream and forces something to develop or burst trying.

Memorandum for William Gibbs Millard. No man who sits in the office of the secretary of the United States Treasury ever became President. A man who tried it, but none ever became the only one ever nominated for the position was W. H. Taft, Governor of Georgia, who in 1912 received the votes of Virginia and Georgia in several electoral votes in New York, Delaware and Maryland. The most tragic stories of American history relate the efforts of men who had served as Secretaries to get the nomination.

Democratic members of Congress sought to welcome the prospect of a session of Congress, but they will have more to do than welcome even though in a minority, for they have for the most part been elected only in a perfunctory manner under the one-man government set up by President Wilson. It is encouraging, irrespective of the chances, to look forward to a rehabilitation of the devastated condition of our national government. There is no room between the two extremes for a one-man government.

ARTIC LITERATURE.

The January Bookman contains the statement by Christopher Isherwood, speaking of the nocturnal life of poets and writers, that it is strange that the Ecumenical Council produced no great literature. Chicago News is moved to the following reflections on that point.

THE WHY OF IT.

Shall we all apply our wit to the latest thought of the day? Why the sturdy Equusman? Traces no version on the show? Why a brainwashed out of the lead? Could not earn his pork in the lead?

Well, it's taught to wonder at. Blubber makes the head grow. Think of Harriet Monroe. Eating blubber on a floss. Yes, I fancy she would be writing "Salads from the Floss."

Mid the icicles and frost. Pansion, too, is often lost. Picture Ella Wheeler. Panting in a frozen pill box. Don't you think that she would be writing "Salads from the Floss?"

Northern lighting off has shown. Curses cool as Conrad Allen. "Chorus" Ruse and "Forsyth" May. Might have faded to an echo. Amy Lowell's lucubrations. Would not thrive on walrus.

Remember you have only 32 teeth

The fillings in your teeth are a probable indication that you have "Acid-Mouth."

Unless the condition is checked, you will have more cavities this year and still more cavities next year, and so on until in time every tooth in your mouth will be in danger of decay.

Dental authorities believe that only 1 in 20 persons is free from "Acid-Mouth."

Pebeco Tooth Paste is the scientific answer to "Acid-Mouth." Besides, it helps to keep the teeth pearly white, invigorates the gums and refreshes the whole mouth.

WOMAN KILLED IN AUTO CRASH.

Three Companions Injured as Machine Overtaken.

Police Arrest Two Men in Merry-makers' Party.

Night of Jollity at Venice Ends in a Fatality.

VENICE, Feb. 24.—Returning from the beach to Los Angeles, an automobile containing a party of merry-makers turned turtle on Washington boulevard, near the Venice Aviation Field, early this morning, and one life was sacrificed in the accident. The returning party consisted of Mrs. Tony Shephardson of 1011 Trolleyway, this city; R. E. Keyser of 1211 O'Farrell street, San Francisco, who was driving the machine; L. A. Hanna of 323 South Spring street, Los Angeles, and Mrs. McChung of the Belmont apartments, this city.

The rain had made the oily surface of the boulevard slippery, and as the machine crossed the car tracks and straightened out on the boulevard it skidded, turned completely around and then toppled over on the side of the roadway. All of the occupants were hurled from the car. Mrs. Shephardson was picked up unconscious and hurried to the Emergency Hospital here, where she died immediately upon reaching there. The others were placed in the police ambulance and taken to the hospital. Their injuries were slight. Mrs. Shephardson sustained a fractured skull and internal injuries.

After the police had investigated the accident, Keyser and Hanna were locked up on an open charge. Coroner Hartwell was notified.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SAN DIEGO, Feb. 24.—Despite the veto of Mayor Wilde on the resolution of the City Council to put certain city charter amendments to the vote of the people, the amendments will be voted upon at an election April 1.

DID IT KNOW ITS MASTER'S VOICE?

Latest Ford Story: Declared to be True by Two Altadena Residents.

PASADENA, Feb. 24.—They are telling a new Ford story here, with Henry Ford, who is spending the winter in Pasadena, as the central figure.

Such reputable citizens as Dr. T. B. Wright and A. F. Garts of Altadena say it is true. Dr. Wright is a relative of Mr. Ford and drove one of the little things. Dr. Wright, with Mr. Garts as a passenger, was driving down Los Robles avenue, so they tell the tale, when the car balked. Crank as they would, Dr. Wright and Mr. Garts could not make the tin "Lizzie" go. Then Mr. Ford came speeding down the avenue in his Ford.

When he saw Dr. Wright stalled, the manufacturer stopped. Then, narrate Dr. Wright and Mr. Garts, Mr. Ford got out, went over to the Wright machine, gave the radiator a couple of taps and remarked: "Don't you know me, Lizzie?" With that, he gave the crank a single turn and lo! the motor hummed cheerfully and Dr. Wright and Mr. Garts went on their way.

ORANGE EDITOR HAS DISAPPEARED.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SANTA ANA, Feb. 24.—A wide search is being made for George E. Hart, for several months editor of the Orange Daily News and brother of Capt. W. O. Hart of Camp Lewis. Hart left home last Monday, leaving a note saying he had been called to San Bernardino. When he failed to return, a quiet search was instituted, but to date nothing has been heard from him.

He recently suffered an attack of influenza, and relative fear he left during a period of mental weakness, as no cause whatever for his leaving has been found, either in his medical or domestic affairs. He has a wife and baby at Orange. Capt. W. O. Hart has now received his discharge, and on his way home from Camp Lewis.

TO LEAD BAY CITY MUNICIPAL BAND.

Bert Teale Chosen From Among Many Aspirants for Directorship.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SANTA MONICA BEACH, Feb. 24.—The Commissioners of this city at their meeting appointed Bert Teale director of the municipal band to be organized for Santa Monica Beach and Ocean Park concerts during the coming season. Recently the taxpayers voted an amount sufficient to maintain a band. This money is to be included in the regular tax levy. In the past the band that furnished concert music at Ocean Park, the amusement district of the city, has been supported by a small appropriation from the city and private donations from merchants.

Director Teale, who is the director of music at the Los Angeles High School, was selected from among many aspirants, among whom were Caesar La Monica and Manfredo Chiffarelli, both of whom had formerly directed the Venice of America band. The new director was formerly assistant director of Innes's Band and was also assistant director of the "Kitties" Band during its four years' concert tour of the country. He will be recalled by the people of Los Angeles for his part in the "March of the Empire," a spectacular affair of considerable production in Exposition Park some time since.

He has announced his intentions to organize an all-American band, and that returning musicians who have been members of the army bands overseas will be given the preference. The three commissioners were unanimous in the selection.

Isn't this a reasonable profit?

It is what Swift & Company earned in 1918.

2 cents on each dollar of sales—only a fraction of a cent per pound—was too small to have any noticeable effect on prices.

11% on investment (capital and surplus) means only fair returns to the 25,000 shareholders; they received 8% dividends in 1918.

The 1918 earnings of Swift & Company were equivalent to a profit of only

$212 on Sales of $12,000

Would you be content with that margin of profit in your business?

"DOUBLING UP"

That successful business builders in Los Angeles and Southern California concentrate their advertising in The Times is conclusively proved by the unflinching regularity with which this newspaper completely outclasses and distances its nearest local competitor.

On Sunday, February 24th, The Times printed 453 inches, more than twice as much advertising as the second morning paper.

The following is the record:

The Times
12,933
Inches

Second Newspaper
6240 Inches

The Times dominates the Southern California field in all classes of advertising—local display, foreign and classified—solely because experienced buyers of advertising space know that they can cover Los Angeles and all Southern California at one cost by using The Times alone.

BRAY GUILTY, IS JURY'S VERDICT.

Found Responsible for Death
of Bertha May Wiswell.

Physician Called as Witness
Died Sunday, Court Told.

Sentence for Manslaughter to be Given on Friday.

That Edward J. Bray was responsible for the death of Bertha May Wiswell last October was the verdict of a jury in the court of Judge Willis yesterday. A verdict of manslaughter was returned by the jury after a half an hour's deliberation.

In summing up the evidence, Deputy District Attorney Keyes pointed to testimony that Bray had boasted of having beaten the woman and to the statement of County Autopsy Surgeon Warner that the woman came to her death from the injuries caused by blows on her abdomen.

Bray was arrested a week after the woman was buried, following disclosures that she probably had died from a beating he gave her instead of from influenza, as reported. Her body was exhumed for an autopsy.

The trial was continued from last Friday until yesterday in order that Dr. G. W. Finch, her attending physician, might testify, but it was reported to the court yesterday that Dr. Finch had died on Sunday. Arthur Veitch, attorney for the defendant, had subpoenaed the physician.

Sentence on Bray will be pronounced on Friday by Judge Willis.

LIBRARY SET SHOWS WHAT CITY CAN MAKE.

An example of what can be made in Los Angeles in the way of artistic furniture is shown in one of the windows of the California Furniture Company on Broadway. It consists of a magnificent library suite for an exclusive San Francisco home, and comprises a desk, a table, especially designed revolving chairs, easy arm chairs and a sofa.

The set was culled from finest selected figured mahogany, and is of Italian renaissance inspiration. To the desk table, which is the centerpiece in the set, two specially designed lamps are connected by wiring installed in the desk itself.

SEEKS FAMILY HERE.

Veteran of Two Wars Returns From Front to Find Himself Homeless.

Lester William Burnett, a Canadian soldier, who has seen more than his share of service, though he has only just reached his majority, is back from the war, but he can't find his mother, Mrs. James Wilbeck, nor his sister, Mrs. Mary Jane Benedict. They were residing at Pomona in 1918, he said yesterday.

Burnett served with Pershing's expeditionary forces in Mexico and was assigned to the Ninetieth Aero Squadron in the war with Germany. But he fell and received so many fractures that he was discharged from the United States Army.

Still filled with the fighting spirit, he went to Canada and enlisted with the Canadian forces. He was captured in a blind trench one day and was forced to spend months in a prison camp in Germany.

He is stopping at the Salvation Army's Naval and Military Hotel.

DENIES BROKEN TROTH.
Answer Filed in Damage Suit of Former Hotel Employee.

Frank W. Schultz, defendant in a $50,000 damage suit for alleged failure to keep his promise to marry Miss Gertrude Marie Hoffman, formerly employed at the Alexandria Hotel, filed his answer to the action yesterday, entering a general denial. Mr. Schultz is said to be wealthy. Miss Hoffman declared that Mr. Schultz told her she was the most wonderful girl he had ever kissed. She would call him "lover," and would respond with "lover bug." These exchanges passed when they started off in his touring car.

them. Hong, Attorney Schenck says, later identified the two cans of opium found in Edmonson's possession, as the cans he was shown in the Pasadena house on the night of the alleged hold-up.

After an investigation started by Chief Butler yesterday morning, and the close questioning of every witness they could find, the police ordered Hill and Profit brought to the station. Both made a complete denial. They were then led into Capt. Home's office, where, in the presence of Chief Butler, Capt. Home, Lieut. McIntosh of the flying squadron, and Sergt. Jarvis of the Chinatown squad, the Chinese are said to have identified Profit and Hill as the men who held the guns on them and later robbed Hong of the money.

Hong further charged that on a previous occasion he was introduced by Hill to Smith, the opium seller, as the man who had the stuff for sale.

The hold-up occurred about 9 o'clock in the evening, the police say. Profit and Hill both came on duty at 11 o'clock, the regular starting time for the "flying squadron" officers. Both were marked in on the time sheet and were on duty till 5 o'clock the next morning.

A man and a woman, who saw Hong a few minutes after the alleged robbery, and directed him to a street car in Pasadena, are being sought by the police. Five other Chinese are wanted as witnesses.

The arrest of the two officers was ordered by the Federal officials after they had obtained statements from Edmonson. Just what disposition will be made of Hong is not stated by the officials. In the event that Smith is found and charged with conspiracy, the officers say.

CHIEF'S STATEMENT.

Chief Butler last night gave out the following statement:

"I have ordered this matter probed to the bottom, and Capt. Home has my instructions. If any other member of this department is involved and guilty, he will be dealt with according to the law. We will go the limit, but in the beginning we will try to co-operate with the Federal officials in their case."

Capt. Home said: "This investigation will not end until everyone connected with the affair is definitely placed. At this time we cannot give out any more information or say what action the government will take or what evidence it may have connecting these two men with the charges. We are going ahead with our investigation, and as soon as our independent facts warrant it, will charge the men with highway robbery."

Profit and Hill have been considered two of the best officers in the department. As members of the flying squadron they have worked under Lieut. McIntosh, and were noted for their bravery and efficiency. Hill is the hero of many battles with hold-up men, and Profit is known as a good officer.

Hill was appointed August 21, 1914. He resigned May 31, 1918, for work in a local shipyard. Was reappointed September 19, 1918. On April 9, 1919, he was fined five days' pay for trouble with a Chinese man, who used violence unnecessarily. Was commended for having shot and killed Mexican bandit July 25, 1917.

Profit was appointed police chairman January 1, 1918, and as patrolman May 24, 1917. Was commended July 3, 1919, for recovery of an auto. Is married; aged 34; lives at 121 West Forty-fifth street.

Mr. Bickford, who died in Los Angeles on January 29, also directs that if, during the lifetime of Frederick L. Bickford, another son, the latter's wife should cease to live with him, she shall receive no benefits from the estate. One-third of the estate is bequeathed to the widow, Mrs. Charlotte E. Bickford, and two-thirds go to Charles L. John T. Frederick, another son. They are also to receive the widow's portion upon her death. The petition for probate of the will was filed by F. S. Forbes, attorney for the estate.

TODAY'S BEAUTY HINT

It is not necessary to shampoo your hair so frequently if it is entirely and properly cleansed each time by the use of a really good shampoo. The easiest to use and quickest drying shampoo that we can recommend to our readers is one that brings out all the natural beauty of the hair and may be enjoyed at very little expense, by dissolving a teaspoonful of cantbox which can be obtained from any drugist, in a cup of hot water. This makes a full cup of shampoo liquid, enough so it is easy to apply it to all the hair instead of just to the top of the head. This, when rubbed into the scalp and onto every strand of hair, chemically dissolves all impurities. It is very soothing and cooling in its action, as well as beneficial to both scalp and hair. After rinsing out the lather so created, you will find the scalp is fresh, clean and free from dandruff, while the hair dries quickly and evenly, developing a bright luster and a soft suppleness that makes it seem very heavy.
